

Hooch and Homicide at The Three Horseshoes

It is 1925, the time of parties, Prohibition and new dance crazes.

Stanley Padrino, Mob Boss, dealer in illegal hooch, and all round bad guy, is throwing an illicit party at The Three Horseshoes. You are invited – but do you dare attend? As All Hallow's Eve approaches, Stanley starts to get a haunting feeling - are the ghosts of his past coming to bedevil him? As Stanley tries to hold his evening together he starts to wonder whom he can trust – and even whether murder might be on the cards. Join us to see if Stanley can keep skeletons in their closets – whilst trying to dodge a police raid.

Can you and your friends work out who wants to get away with murder? 1920s costume and bad American accents encouraged but certainly not compulsory.
